THE bulls made a determined effort today to hold prices, and for a time they were quite successful. In the first transactions Sugar certificates advanced, and the market for the bulls was heavy, the last named selling at 70 1/2. The bulls, nothing daunted by this, took hold of Lackawanna, and marched it up from 34 1/2 to 35 1/2. This exhibition of courage by Deacon White infused a little life into operators inclined to be bullish, and a rise of 1/4 to 3/8 cent took place. Sugar certificates leading, with sales up to 70.

The market went along swimmingly until nearly 1 o'clock, when the preliminary statement of the Union Pacific for August was issued.

It showed an increase in gross earnings of $87,281 and a decrease in net of $24,730. It was over the Union Pacific for August was issued.

First Place in the First Consolation Event at Gravesend To-Day.

SENORITA'S HAPPY BACKERS.

Horses Who Lead for the First Time on the Season's Card.

GRAVESEND RACE TRACK, Sept. 29.—There was a fine crowd of spectators at the first consolation event at Gravesend today, and a good-sized crowd was in attendance. The track had dried out very well and was very fast.

Capt. Brown's stud-horse, with Tarrup, was said to be a cinch for the opening event, and so it proved. Yet Worth gave him a good race.

Senorita, Ron and Al Farrow went to the post equal favorites for the second race, when the former won handsily. The running of Al Farrow was a surprise as he could not get a place and even his fellow beat him.

Justifying from the way Reckon was backed for the third race, it looked to be all over but the shouting, and so it proved, as the won in a canter.

Sweepstakes, $20 each, for horses that have run without winning at the meeting, with $1,000 added; weight 10 lb. below the scale; one mile.

BIRCHALL'S DEFENSE CLOSED.

Mr. Blackstock's Line Drawn Between Morals and Murder.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Sept. 29.—There are reports this morning of attempts having been made yesterday to get at the Birchall jury. For some reason the guards were doubled over the jury, although the Crown had only wished to do this as a last resort, so as not to excite a prejudice against themselves in the minds of the jurymen.

An hour before the time for the court to open, an immense, surging, struggling crowd had assembled before the door. Entrance to the building was rendered impossible until a small door on another street was opened, through which the judge, jury, counsel and the prisoner passed into the building.

Birchall was driven around by side streets to the court-house, where his black escort, armed with clubs and a long staff, waited for him. He was driven to the court-house, where his black escort, armed with clubs and a long staff, waited for him. He was driven to the court-house, where his black escort, armed with clubs and a long staff, waited for him.

The ladies were seated near the prisoner. Mrs. West-Jones sat firmly and erect, but Mrs. Birchall was stooped and bowed.

The first witness sworn was the telegraph boy who delivered Birchall's telegram at the Stafford House in Buffalo, on the evening of Feb. 17.

He was followed into the box by James Costin, a former living near Princeton, who described the visit of a young man to his home on the night of Feb. 17, 1888, as having been made by a man who he believed to be Birchall.

Costin's statement was that he had seen Birchall on the night of Feb. 17, 1888, at his home in Princeton, N. J., where he was then residing. He said he had been refused at other houses, and then his visitor asked if there were any women at home. When he answered in the affirmative, he was told to go in, and he did so. He saw Birchall, who was then dressed in a suit of dark clothing, and who was accompanied by a woman.
